

JURY FAILS TO INDICT ACTOR

At Another Session Will Be Held
When District Attorney Gathers New Evidence

INQUEST CONTINUES

Woman Who Was Present at Party
Tells of Finding Screaming
Girl in Actor's Room

San Francisco, Sept. 13.—With the jury which has been hearing evidence against him adjourned and a coroner's inquest extending into a second day without a verdict, Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, motion picture comedian, charged with the murder of Miss Virginia Rappe, an actress whose death occurred after a party in Arbuckle's hotel room, went to his third night in a cell tonight. The grand jury adjourned without turning an indictment, but another session will be held as soon as District Attorney Brady is ready to present further testimony, the coroner announced.

Added interest was given the case today when the district attorney declared he would start an investigation to ascertain whether witnesses who were present at the party last week, have been tampered with. The official statement followed the appearance of Miss Vey Prevost, also known as Miss Vey, before the grand jury, according to Mr. Brady, her testimony was entirely different from that she previously gave him.

"Last" Witness Shows Up.
Reports that another witness, Alice Blake, had disappeared, proved erroneous when she appeared at the district attorney's office. Miss Blake, according to Brady, that she had gone from her home in Berkeley to a friend's home in Oakland in order to avoid publicity.

Among witnesses before the grand jury, some of whom later testified at the second day's proceedings of the coroner's inquest, were Mrs. Bambina and Deimont, Al Semmacher, Miss Rappe's manager; Vey Prevost and Alice Blake, all of whom are said to have been present at the Arbuckle party, and Mrs. Jean Jameson, a nurse who attended Miss Rappe before her death.

Mr. Deimont, at the inquest, said a Miss Rappe and Al Semmacher came to San Francisco from Los Angeles, arriving Sunday night, Sept. 11.

While she and Miss Rappe were having breakfast the next day, a telephone call was received that a Mr. Arbuckle wanted to see them all at the St. Francis hotel. Miss Rappe went to Arbuckle's rooms alone, and she telephoned for Mrs. Deimont and Semmacher to join her. There, she testified, she met Arbuckle. Lowell Semmacher, Ira C. Fortoulous, and Fredrick Fischbach. There were many bottles on the table in the room. Miss Rappe had three drinks of gin and orange juice and Mrs. Deimont had a drink of whiskey. Two girls came in, whom she learned later were Alice Blake and Vey Prevost.

Attacked by Arbuckle.
The Rappe girl rose and went into the bathroom off Arbuckle's rooms. When she came out of the bathroom, Arbuckle was in his room. He closed the door between it and the sitting room where the other members of the party were.

She heard screams coming from the room about an hour later, she said, and demanded that Arbuckle open the door. The Rappe girl was on the floor, she said, and she was screaming, "I am hurt, I am dying; I am dying."

She removed the girl's clothing and assisted by Fischbach placed her in a tub of cold water. This had no effect, and so Miss Rappe was taken to another room and put to bed.

Arbuckle kept his eyes fixed on the lines throughout the testimony.

Miss Deimont finished her testimony at noon. Arbuckle took more than usual interest when toward the close of the session, Coroner Dr. T. J. W. Leonard asked her:

"How do you happen to remember that happened if you had so many drinks of whiskey?"

"My memory is always good," she answered.

Mr. Semmacher's Story.
Mr. Semmacher testified that he attended the party after trying in vain to induce Miss Rappe to return to Los Angeles. He was not present, he said, during the alleged attack, but came back later and saw Miss Rappe on the bed apparently very ill.

Semmacher also testified that he called Miss Rappe the day following the party and she said to him:

"Roscoe hurt me."

He said he did not hear the screaming testified to by Mrs. Deimont and was surprised when he heard the full details of the party from Mrs. Deimont the next day.

Prohibition officers announced that they intended to search Arbuckle and the hotel management regarding the carrying of liquor into Arbuckle's rooms.

The inquest will be resumed tomorrow, it was announced, when it is proposed to summon Miss Prevost and Miss Blake. Their testimony was not offered today at the inquest in order that they might first appear before a special session of the county jury tonight.

Mr. Deimont told of having brought lines up from Los Angeles in the automobile which her party drove here. She said, however, that Miss Rappe did not touch this liquor. During Miss Rappe's illness, she tried to induce Arbuckle to visit the girl.

Victim of Arbuckle Party

Miss Virginia Rappe, movie actress, who died during a wild party in the apartment of Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, in a San Francisco hotel. Arbuckle is held on a charge of murder in connection with the tragedy.

MEDICAL ADVISOR ORDERED 'FIRED'

Veterans' Bureau Official Removed
After Speech Attacking
Superiors

Washington, Sept. 13.—"The summary dismissal" of Dr. Haven Emerson, medical advisor of the United States Veterans' bureau, who was quoted as having said in a speech at Columbus, Ohio, yesterday, that the bureau "was being made the football of politicians," was announced tonight by Acting Director Leon Frazer.

Colonel C. E. Forbes, director of the bureau, who is on an inspection trip to the Pacific coast, declared in a statement sent to the bureau for publication, that Dr. Emerson's charge that $500,000 was being used for political patronage "is unqualifiedly false."

"I expected some such silly statement from a disgruntled employee whose services have proved unsatisfactory," the statement said. "The facts are that I found the medical division, under his direction, in a chaotic condition little short of a public scandal. He had 65,000 cases awaiting action and was losing ground every day, while sick and destitute men clamored for aid. Dr. Emerson, though of high professional medical capacity, demonstrated such a complete absence of executive ability or administrative common sense that I was forced to place a medical executive officer, Lieut. Col. R. U. Patterson, in charge of the division and to indicate to Dr. Emerson that his services were no longer desired."

LEDOUX MAY PUT WOMEN ON AUCTION BLOCK IN GOTHAM

New York, Sept. 13.—Urban Ledoux, alias "Mr. Zero," who auctioned off jobless men on Boston Common, said today he would hold a similar auction next Monday near the New York public library, after a parade of the unemployed up Broadway. He said that not only would he put jobless men on the block, but that he would also auction off the services of any unemployed women who might appear.

Asked if his methods with women would be the same as with men he said: "Why certainly, if necessary." He said that he would hold the auction of women in Broadway musical comedies and on Fifth avenue.

"Mr. Zero" will lead the parade under an old umbrella which he has decorated with red motto, "Lift up your hearts." He will provide the hungry with coffee and doughnuts before putting them on the auction block.

CANADIAN CROPS ROTTING.

Winnipeg, Sept. 13.—Crops are rotting on thousands of acres around Creelman, Saskatchewan, because labor cannot be obtained at wages which farmers are able to pay.

but he refused to do so, Mrs. Deimont said.

Arbuckle's mood throughout the day was one of indifference to everything but the wailing out of the story at the inquest. He paid no attention to photographers and disdained the many questions that were asked him by interviewers.

Arbuckle Films Suspended.
New York, Sept. 13.—Exhibition of motion pictures in which Roscoe Arbuckle appears was suspended today by unanimous vote of the Theatre Owners' Chamber of Commerce pending the final determination of the charges against the comedian. The organization represents over 600 theatres in Greater New York.

Los Angeles, Sept. 13.—Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle was dropped from the membership of the Los Angeles Athletic Club here last night. President William M. Garland said "it was the unanimous belief of the directors that such a step should be taken."

ADMITTS PART IN DOUBLE MURDER

Garage Employee Confesses to Helping Harvey Church Kill
Two Auto Salesmen

THIRD MAN SOUGHT

New Developments Follow Church's Admissions That He Was Not Alone in Crime

Chicago, Sept. 13.—After first refusing to sign an alleged confession implicating himself with Harvey W. Church in the handout slaying of the two automobile salesmen, Louis Parks, a garage employee, today signed a forty-page transcript telling the story of the part he played in the double murder.

Parks at first declined to sign the statement because he said he had been beaten and forced into making admissions.

Meanwhile detectives were seeking Clarence "Bud" Wilder, named by Church in his confession in the slaying of Bernard J. Dougherty and Carl A. Ausmus as the man responsible for the mutilated condition of the bodies.

Authorities expressed some doubt today that the men whom they have in custody include Wilder. The names of Joseph Spauls and Charles Robinson were given as those of two suspects in custody and police were still searching for others who they believe may be implicated.

Motive of the Crime.

Charles Wharton, assistant state's attorney, and Chief of Police Fitzmorris took the signed confession of Parks and a supplementary confession of more than 100 typewritten pages made by Church before the grand jury which is hearing evidence in the case today.

Parks' alleged confession for the first time based the real motive of the double murder. The only reason given by Church in his original confession was that he wished to obtain possession of the $5,490 automobile he was dealing for.

Parks asserted that the three had planned to steal the car from Dougherty and Ausmus, sell it and divide the profits.

Parks and Wilder, according to Parks, waited in the basement of Church's home until Church brought Dougherty there at the police of a gun after Dougherty, Church and Ausmus had driven to the Church home. Dougherty was handcuffed, bound and then struck over the head with a baseball bat and his throat cut. Ausmus, who came to look for Dougherty, suffered a similar fate. Parks, in his alleged confession blames Church with the actual slaying of the two victims.

The three dug a grave in Church's garage where they buried Ausmus. They then ate supper and at 3 o'clock the next morning, Parks and Church took Dougherty's body and threw it into the Des Plaines river, Parks said.

ARTHUR BURCH CONFESSES TO LOS ANGELES MURDER

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 13.—Excerpts of a conversation alleged to have taken place last night in the county jail between Chandler Sprague, reporter for the Los Angeles Examiner, and Arthur C. Burch, indicted with Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, brother, were made public here tonight by W. C. Doran, chief deputy district attorney.

The conversation, Mr. Doran stated, related to a copyrighted article published today in the Los Angeles Examiner, in which Sprague asserted under his signature that Burch on August 14 confessed to him the slaying of Kennedy August 5.

Mr. Doran said the conversation between Sprague, who today was called before the Los Angeles county grand jury, and Burch, took place in Burch's cell in the county jail, and was obtained through the efforts of Malcolm McLaren, a detective, who has the investigation of the Kennedy tragedy in charge for the district attorney's office.

McLaren, Doran added, obtained a record of the Burch-Sprague conference last night by means of a device for recording conversations.

The matter made public tonight by Mr. Doran follows:

The Cell Interview.

Question by Mr. Sprague. Arthur, you and I understand each other?

Answer by Burch. We understand each other.

Q. I know you told me the truth. You know you told me the truth.

A. Yes.

Q. I don't think if I am put in a position where I have to give testimony, I don't think you personally are going to have any hard feeling against me.

A. Not at all. Why, certain facts that you know are true, that you think are true.

Q. That I know are true, so far as you are concerned. I am the only person that does know it.

A. Absolutely.

Q. What motives were those you had for telling me?

A. In the first place, it gives a man a certain amount of relief to express himself.

Q. You and I, nobody else in the world, know that you have told me the truth.

A. You and I—it is a question of my life or Mrs. Obenchain's.

Q. You know, as man to man, you told me the truth.

A. That is all right.

Q. In these anyone else in the world that knows the true story of this but Chandler Sprague—anybody, anyone else?

A. No sir. It has never been told. That is God's truth, absolutely.

NEW ROCHELLE GIRL WINS STATE FAIR SPELLING BEE

Syracuse, Sept. 13.—Virginia Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Cook of New Rochelle, won the State fair spelling bee conducted under the direction of the state department of agriculture here today. She was awarded the $20 in gold after a seven-hour contest of words among prize-winning pupils from every county in the state.

Second prize, $15 in gold, was won by Sterling Hiles of East Aurora, and third prize, $10 in gold, was captured by Charles D. Newton of Northport, Long Island. Dr. Frank P. Graves, the new state commissioner of education, had charge of the giving out of the words in the contest.

NEW HITCH IN THE IRISH NEGOTIATIONS

Proposed Conference Between Government and Irish Delegates Will Be Delayed

London, Sept. 13.—An unexpected hitch has arisen in the Irish negotiations. Premier Lloyd George, who is at Gairloch, Scotland, today received Harry Boland, secretary to Eamon DeValera and Joseph McGrath, another Sinn Fein representative, according to an official communication issued tonight, and Messrs. Boland and McGrath are returning to Dublin with the prime minister's explanation of certain points in the government's proposals for consideration by the Dail Eireann.

It is said that Mr. DeValera's reply dealing with the question of accepting or not accepting the invitation to a conference will not be delivered until Friday or Saturday.

It is understood that the letter which Couriers MacGrath and Boland bore to the prime minister asked for fresh explanations respecting the British government's latest communication, and that these points are of vital importance, necessitating the return of the couriers to Dublin for consultation with Mr. DeValera and his colleagues.

The new developments will delay the proposed conference between the government and the Irish plenipotentiaries beyond September 20, the date suggested by Mr. Lloyd George.

300 MEN LEAVE FOR MOROCCO WAR ZONE

Foreign Legion to Fight Moors Is Made Up of Men Who Speak
Half a Dozen Tongues

New York, Sept. 13.—Commanded by a veteran of three wars, who won his way from buck private to the rank of major while serving with the Canadian army in France, 300 men left here today for Spain on the steamship Antonio Lopez to fight the Moors in Morocco.

Recruited in the United States, Canada, Cuba, Mexico, Porto Rico and Venezuela, the foreign legion is made up of men who speak half a dozen tongues but the majority have records of service in the World war.

Captain Donald MacGregor is the officer in command. Born in India he became a lieutenant in the Royal Indian army. In the South African campaign he was a captain and when the World war broke out he enlisted in Canada as a private but came out with the rank of temporary major and several decorations.

The men were recruited through Spanish consulates. Each member of the expedition is guaranteed pay of approximately 50 cents a day—more than twice as much as the Spanish soldier receives. In the party are about sixty Americans and thirty from Canada. Many of the Americans and Canadians were non-commissioned officers during the World war.

LLOYD GEORGE EXPECTED TO HEAD BRITISH DELEGATION

Washington, Sept. 13.—Should the status of the Irish question permit the temporary absence of the premier from England in November, it was said today in informed circles here to be reasonably certain that David Lloyd George will head the British delegation to the Washington armament conference and that he will have as his principal assistant Andrew Bonar Law, who retired from the cabinet because of impaired health but who has recovered. The British delegation is expected to be completed by the addition of Sir Meunington Worthington Evans, secretary for war, and Lord Lee of Fareham, first lord of the admiralty.

TRAGEDY ON SPANISH RIVER

Lerida, Spain, Sept. 11.—Thirty-one bodies of those drowned in the Segre river near here yesterday as a result of the capsizing of an excursion boat have thus far been recovered. The remaining 19 excursionists on the boat still are missing.

Q. You told me everything?

A. Yes sir.

Sprague in his article published this morning stated he had promised not to make Burch's alleged confession public until he was forced to do so, under oath, and that he regarded the confession as a "bomb" before the grand jury today as releasing him from the promise.

Burch and Mrs. Obenchain today denied allegations in Sprague's article.

COMPETITION OVER COURT OF JUSTICE

Ambition of All States to Be Represented Presents New Problem for the League

(By Associated Press)

Geneva, Sept. 13.—The competition among about 35 out of the 45 states members of the League of Nations, for the eleven seats on the bench of the International Court of Justice and for the four seats in the council of the league, gave more life to the sessions of the assembly today than has been shown all through the dragging debate on the work of the league.

The aims of the league leaders to have represented on the bench of the International Court all the principal geographical divisions of the world, as well as all the races, have been somewhat complicated by the ambitions of most of the states to be represented.

There remain 80 names on the list of nominations, including that of Elihu Root, who is not regarded as having officially declined. Only about 35 of them, however, are expected to receive votes. Six of these are regarded tonight as practically certain of election. They are: Viscount Finlay, Great Britain; Dr. Andrieu Velasquez, Mexico; Oda, Japan; Commandatore Dionisio Anzilotti, Italy; Dr. Rui Barbosa, Brazil and Dr. E. P. C. Loder of Holland.

John Bassett Moore, of the United States is considered a strong probability. Competition for the remainder of the seats is very lively between South and Central American, Scandinavian, the Slavs, the Czechs and the British dominions.

CORPORATIONS FACE ADDED TAX LEVIES

Would Pay Excess Profits Taxes for Another Year Under Decision Reached Yesterday

Washington, Sept. 13.—Corporations would be required to pay excess profits taxes for another year under a decision today of the senate finance committee, which finally approved the provision in the house bill repealing these taxes as of next January 1, instead of last January 1 as recommended by Secretary Mellon.

The committee also inserted a provision in the house measure repealing the capital stock tax, effective next year, and adopted an amendment increasing the corporation income tax from 10 to 15 per cent instead of 12 1/2 per cent, and effective January 1, 1922.

These represented the major decisions reached today at two sessions, although I was said officially that the committee men practically had decided to amend the house bill so as to continue the tax on express packages and oil transported by pipe line.

Whether any portion of the tax on the transportation of oil, light and gas, and whether it would be retained after January 1, will depend, Chairman Penrose said, upon a report to be made tomorrow by the treasury as to the savings in expenditures expected to be made this fiscal year by the various government departments.

This report was called for today by the committee, which was represented as taking the position that it could not complete the levy sections expected to accomplish the $50,000,000 cut in outlay agreed upon in the White House tax conference last month.

FOUR CONVICTS ATTEMPTING ESCAPE ARE SHOT BY GUARDS

Jefferson City, Mo. Sept. 13.—Three of four convicts who attempted to escape from the state penitentiary at 10 o'clock today were shot by the guards. One is not expected to recover. All were brought back to the penitentiary. The quartet attempted its getaway after knocking a guard and a shop foreman unconscious.

The four were employed in an overall factory. They were Joe Kenny, Dick Kennedy, Sam Taylor and Len M. Hogan. Kenny was shot through the body and Hogan was shot through the leg, and Taylor was uninjured.

The men were making toward a switch engine when wounded by the guards, and succeeded in climbing onto the engine but reinforcements of guards arrived before it was possible to start the engine.

GRAYWORTHY SETS NEW MARK FOR EMPIRE STATE STAKE

Syracuse, Sept. 13.—A new record for the Empire State stake was made here this afternoon when Grayworthy, owned by Walter Cox, trotted the mile in the second heat in 2:02 1/4. The old record was 2:01 1/4, made in 1919 by McGregor the Great, another Cox horse.

TWO POLICEMEN INDICTED.

New York, Sept. 13.—William Bondeau and Frank J. Niedhamer, policemen, were indicted today on charges of assault with intent to kill James A. S. Carpenter, an advertising agent, while they were witnessing a ball game at the Polo grounds in plain clothes.

Carpenter, who was sitting behind the policemen, accidentally put one foot on Niedhamer's coat, and Niedhamer, it is charged, punched him and hit him with a blackjack while Bondeau warned other spectators not to interfere with an officer.

CURRAN VICTOR IN N. Y. FIGHT

Wins Republican Nomination for Mayor Over Three Opponents
by Big Majority

'WET' CHOICE THIRD

Organization Ticket, Headed by
Erving, Carried in Albany—
Other Update Returns

New York, Sept. 13.—Henry H. Curran, coalition candidate, won the Republican nomination for mayor today over three opponents, leading his nearest rival, F. H. Legardina, president of the board of aldermen, by a vote of almost 3 to 1.

Judge Reuben L. Haskell, who made his campaign on the wet issue, ran a close third, and William M. Bennett, former state senator, was a poor fourth.

The vote, with 1,224 out of 2,733 election districts missing, was: Curran, 55,576; Bennett, 2,497; Haskell, 18,833; Legardina, 21,210.

The other candidates for controller, Charles C. Lockwood for comptroller, and Vincent Gironi, independent Democrat, led their opponents by overwhelming pluralities.

Hyman-Craig Team Unopposed.

Mayor John F. Hyman and Comptroller Charles L. Craig were renominated without opposition in the Democratic primary. Erving Erving received the Democratic nomination for president of the board of aldermen without a contest.

Returns from about one-third of the election districts in Manhattan indicated that James J. Hines, anti-tammany candidate for borough president, would be defeated by Julius Miller, the Democratic organization's choice, by about 2 to 1.

An aldermanic seat by a band of armed men in three taxicabs to seize the ballot boxes in the second election district, 12th assembly district, Charles F. Murphy's ballistics, was frustrated after a fusillade of shots had been fired.

Bennett Congratulates Winner.

Mr. Bennett, who, returns indicated, would run last in the four-membered majority contest, sent a telegram to Mr. Curran at 11 o'clock tonight, congratulating him on having won the Republican nomination. He promised to support Mr. Curran and told him that nomination meant an overwhelming defeat of Mayor Hyman.

Judge Haskell also conceded the nomination to Mr. Curran, saying that it looked as though he was beyond a doubt. Asked if he would support Mr. Curran, he replied:

"I am a Republican, and what services I can render, I can do best through the Republican party. I am not going to leave the Republican party just because I happen to be beaten."

The Democratic contest for borough president in Queens was an easy victory for Maurice E. Connelley, incumbent, over Dennis O'Leary, a prominent organization candidate, by almost 3 to 1.

ORGANIZATION TICKET SWEEPS ALBANY COUNTY

Albany, Sept. 13.—The candidates of the Albany county Republican organization made a clean sweep in today's primary election. E. C. Campbell was renominated for the assembly in the first district over Dr. H. Judson Lipes, independent, and George W. Becker defeated W. W. Long, independent, in the second district.

A hard-fought municipal campaign ended with the nomination of William Van Rensselaer Erving for mayor and all the other aspirants on the organization ticket, defeating the independent candidates headed by J. J. N. Vander Veer, mayoralty candidate.

Results in Other Cities.

Buffalo, Sept. 13.—Assemblyman Andrew J. Brady, Democrat, was renominated today in the fourth district, Erie county, defeating J. J. McGeen and John T. Gaffney. In the fifth Erie district, A. Borkowski was nominated for assembly candidate in the Republican primary. His opponent was A. A. Patrykowski, a former member of the lower house.

Newburgh, Sept. 13.—Arthur E. Brundage today was renominated as the Republican candidate for assemblyman from the first district of Orange county. His opponent was Maxwell Corkdale.

Mt. Vernon, Sept. 13.—Mayor Elmer I. Kincaid was renominated at the Republican primary today by a margin of 1,000 votes over Alderman Harry Kolbe. He will be opposed in the mayoralty election by former Mayor Edwin W. Fluke, whose nomination was uncontested in the Democratic primary.

Gloversville, Sept. 13.—Frank Patton today defeated George Conover for the Republican mayoralty nomination. He will be opposed in the election by Robert S. Anibal.

In Johnstown, Mayor William W. Chamberlain defeated Clarence W. Smith for the Republican mayoralty nomination today by a margin of 271 votes.

SPEAKER REJOINS TEAM.

Cleveland, Sept. 13.—Trib Speaker, manager of the Cleveland American League team, remained in a game at St. Louis Sunday, found his knee greatly improved today and left tonight to join the team in Philadelphia. Speaker probably will not play until the Washington series, beginning on Friday.

TOLD OF THE MARINES.
Always there has been fascination in the marine service of the United States to young Americans who have enlisted in the navy of our country for sea service, largely perhaps because they are the soldiers of the fleet, and when a scrap develops in the parts of many countries to which the marines sail, there is always a chance for shore duty in its most exciting form. This appeal of the marine service, it would appear from a report for the fiscal year which ended with the month of June, has not lost any of its strength, though the war is over and done with. During the past year there were 11,735 American born men who enlisted in the marines, and of these 1,000 were from New York, Pennsylvania being second with 916, Illinois third with 847 and Ohio fourth with 519. The others come in smaller numbers from every state in the union.

Not all the marines enlisting, however, were American born. The foreign-born, all of whom are required to have their first papers, were 1,125 in number, and they represented fifty different nationalities. Every European country is represented, and so are the republics of Latin America, Egypt, Syria and the islands of the Indian Ocean. Wherefrom it would appear that wanderlust is not peculiar to one nation, but may be found in men of all countries, races and colors.

SHORTS ESTATE DIVIDED.
Mrs. Amada C. Thoms, "friend" of the late Theodore F. Shonts, who left her his "entire residuary estate," ignoring his wife, is unlikely to get such a fortune as was anticipated. The total estate, instead of running far into the millions as was popularly supposed, was $940,000 and out of it has to be paid $32,000 due Mrs. Shonts, and $155,000 to the National Bank of Commerce. Besides these there are claims of $120,000 on notes, while out of the estate must certainly come the payment of trust fund provisions made for his two daughters and a grandson. According to the administrator it is doubtful if Mrs. Thoms will receive more than "a few farm implements."

That the Shonts estate is largely made up of cat-and-dog securities should perhaps surprise no one, or that the dwindling of its value in the last years of his life. The deterioration of his moral qualities such as Shonts manifested is not infrequently accompanied by like deterioration of business qualifications. The man who is an easy mark for an adventurer, is likely to be an easy mark in other ways. At any rate this appears to have been the case with Shonts.

NOT GOOD EVIDENCE.
The attorney for "Fatty" Arbuckle, held in Los Angeles on charges of the commission of a most revolting and atrocious crime, resulting in the death of a movie star actress, says in his appeal to the public rather than to the court that "the patrons of the silent drama, having knowledge of the smiles and the heart of Arbuckle, will not believe that he is guilty of the charge against him and proved in a court of justice." This appeal is made, he says, "to the conscience and heart of the American people."

It is granted that a man should be protected by the law until proven guilty; but this does not mean that a man against whom there is apparently strong evidence of guilt should be treated like an innocent man. And it is pretty far from being a wrong case when the attorney for a man accused finds it necessary to appeal to those who know his smiles and heart from the picture screen.

HERKIMER TO OTSEGO.
Village Chamber of Commerce Visits Cooperstown and Richfield Today.
According to an announcement made yesterday, the members of the Herkimer Chamber of Commerce have taken this morning for a "day" outing in which Cooperstown will be visited going and Richfield Springs returning. At the latter place dinner will be served at the Tuller at 6:30.

Leaving Herkimer at 9:30 o'clock the party will travel to Cooperstown and during the trip it is urged that automobiles be driven from 20 to 25 miles an hour, except through villages. Each car will follow at a distance of three car lengths.

On arriving at Cooperstown, a short trip will be made through the village so that the party may view the new station at Cooperstown and the million dollar hospital. Then the members of the party will board the steamer Mohican for a two-hour sail around Otsego lake. During the voyage lunch will be served and a musical program will be rendered.

Returning to Cooperstown after the boat ride, the party will go direct to the base ball park in the village, where a game which has aroused considerable interest will be staged. If there is plenty of time, other field sports will be run off.

At 4:30 o'clock the party will drive to Richfield where the dinner will be served. During this part of the day's program there will be special music, singing and speaking.

Nearing the Three Million Mark.
The Second National bank of Cooperstown, as will be seen from the latest report to the comptroller, printed in another column, now has cleared $55,000 short of the three million mark. Its deposits amount to over two million and a half. The report is evidence of judicious management and of public confidence in the oldest banking institution at the county seat.

Impressions of Madame Curie

If an American can find the characteristic of distance of one or two states so marked, how much more must this phase of the country as a whole impress the foreign visitor. It is not strange to hear that Madame Curie said: "I recall from the task of giving my impression of so great a country. It seems impossible to express in a few words the immensity of the space which passes before my eyes and the diversity of its aspects. My impression altogether is one merely of limitless possibilities for the future." — [Boston Transcript.]

Not Favored by Jimmy Owens

A $10 Federal tax on automobiles may be popular with the people who don't own a car, but even those who favor it can hardly pretend that fixing the same rate for a $500 car that applies to a $5,000 one is a just method of taxation. — [Binghamton Press.]

Tax Slacking in France

A distinguished French financial authority makes a public statement that more than one-third of the wealthy Frenchmen are escaping just taxes. This is a disturbing confession to Americans who are paying four thousand million dollars a year in war taxes and foregoing interest on three thousand millions loaned to France. — [New York American.]

England and the Turks

England is afraid to crush the Turkish Nationalists on account of the Indian Nationalists. But these Indian Nationalists are not for England against Turkey all through the war. It was only the weakness of the Allies at the peace conference that encouraged the Moslem agitation. And today English rule in India would be far safer if England would suppress Muzaffar Khan than it is with England professing neutrality between the Greeks and Turks. — [Philadelphia Record.]

Making Agreement Easier

Agreement might be easier — we venture to believe that it would be easier — if Warren G. Wheeler, head of the Anti-Slavery League, would take a short vacation from Washington. Mr. Wheeler is obviously a cause of growing irritation to many Senators. He has a bad habit of talking for Congress as if he owned it. — [Philadelphia Evening Ledger.]

The Tariff Can Wait

Our economic position has been vastly altered by the war. We have become largely an exporting and creditor nation. We do not know what sort of tariff we may need five years hence, or even three years hence. Premature revision all along the line might be disastrous, economically and politically. The country is not clamoring for a new permanent tariff, but for relief from ill-adjusted internal taxation. The Fordney revision can wait. — [New York Tribune.]

Stopping the Waste

President Harding praises Congress for stopping the "waste of waste." The observer on the side lines reflects that Congress has stopped waste principally by doing nothing. — [Chicago Daily News.]

Their Marriage Defined

The late Frank A. Arnold, who was probation officer in Hartford for many years, had a colored couple before him not long before he left Hartford.

"Now this," he said to man and wife, "seems to me to be a case where there is nothing very much the matter except that your tastes are different. You, Sam, are much older than your wife. It is a case of May married to December."

There was a slight pause and then Eva, the wife, was heard to remark in a tried voice:

"Ah-Ah really doan know what yar means, Mr. Arnold, by yar sayin' May is married to December. If yar got to talk that way, it seems to me to be a case of Labor day married to de Day of Rest." — [Hartford Times.]

COURTESY AT THE TELEPHONE

How Patrons of Lines Should Greet Operators and Others on Wire — Something Which Every Habitual User of the Phone Should Read and Inwardly Digest.

Courtesy at the telephone says last week's issue of the Youth's Companion, is quite as important as courtesy toward a person who stands face to face with you. The fact that you cannot see the person at the other end of the line or, in some cases, do not know who it is, in no wise excuses a word or a manner that you would not employ in addressing a friend.

It is not at all uncommon for a man who would not think of insulting anyone intentionally to jerk down the telephone receiver and say, "Well, what do you want?" Such a person need not be surprised if he hears the calm reply, "Not you, thank you; please let me speak to some other member of the staff force." Many business men suffer financial loss because they lack common courtesy in the use of the telephone; many women could trace the reason for their unpopularity to occasions when they showed bad temper at the telephone. The person at the other end of the line was not to blame because the cork burned; it was not her fault that Johnny broke a window or that the butcher's boy was late with the meat. She called with good will in her heart, but the greeting that she got will leave a permanent scar.

Anyone would resent a stranger's coming to the door and demanding, "Who are you?" Yet often a person who has called a number on the telephone will begin, "Hello! Who is this?" If his demand is met with the counterquestion, "Whom do you want?" and he still insists, "Who is this?" the person who answered the telephone is justified in hanging up the receiver.

The person who invariably says, "Hello! Do you know who this is? Don't you recognize my voice? Well, now, guess who I am?" never realizes what a nuisance she has become. One woman had that fault brought to her attention when, after the friend at the other end of the line had "guessed" correctly at once, she persisted, "How did you know me when I disguised my voice?"

"Because," came the response, "you always ask me if I know who it is, and you always want me to guess."

Sometimes, when answering the telephone, you find that the person at the other end of the line has made a mistake in the number. It may be that as you leave the instrument you say, "I should like to know that woman who just called me so pleasant, and when she found that this was not the place that she was trying to reach, she said, 'I am very sorry to have troubled you; central must have misunderstood the number.'"

On the other hand, it may be that when the stranger discovered her mistake she merely hung up the receiver without a word of apology or explanation; then you go away feeling insulted and indignant. To hang up the receiver, as a way of shutting off a conversation, is quite the worst insult that can be offered a person. It will cost you little to be courteous even to the most annoying person.

Everyone should know the principles of courtesy to be observed in using a party line. There are hundreds of persons who, for one reason or another, are compelled to use such lines and who cannot even order a list of groceries without hearing one receiver after another come down off the hook and so knowing that a long line of listening ears are taking in every word.

There is a "central" who does her best under conditions that are enough to distract anyone. Having only two hands and two ears, of course she makes mistakes. But she knows who are the real gentlemen on her exchange and who are not; she also knows the real gentlemen. Her judgment in such matters is usually sound, for she is in one of the best positions in the world to train it.

WILLIAMS PLEADS GUILTY

Sentenced to Nine Months in Jail—Molnari Case Now On.

At the opening of the second day of county court at Cooperstown yesterday, Sperry Williams of Oneonta pleaded guilty to an indictment for violation of the penal law, which charges an offense against public decency. Judge Welch sentenced Williams to nine months in the Otsego county jail.

The drawing of jurors in the liquor tax case of the People against Anthony Molnari occupied practically all the day. The drawing began at 11 a. m. and after the panel was exhausted with eleven jurors in the box, an extra panel of five was drawn by direction of the court. The first man examined from the extra panel was accepted by the attorneys for both sides and at 3:30 court adjourned until this morning when District Attorney Pigeon will open the case for the people. The case of Walter Armstrong of Mt. Vision will probably be moved by the district attorney this morning, and disposition of it made by the court.

ARBuckle LEADS FOR SHERIFF

Returns from Half of Delaware Districts Show Delinquent Man Will Get Republican Nomination.

Delhi, Sept. 13.—Returns from half of the election districts of Delaware county indicate tonight that Marshall Arbuckle of this village will receive the Republican nomination for sheriff. Arbuckle leads Fred J. Stevens of Delhi by 500 votes in the districts from which returns have been received. The primary election vote is unusually low and it is felt that Arbuckle's majority is small. It is thought that enough votes have been received to assure the appearance of Mr. Arbuckle's name on the Republican ticket. There was no contest for nominations for other offices on the Republican ticket and none on the Democratic.

STARTS SECOND CENTURY

Delhi School Opened for One Hundredth and First Year, with Large Attendance and Many Non-Residents.

Delhi, Sept. 13.—The one hundredth and first school year of Delaware Academy and Union Free school opened Tuesday, September 6th, with a record attendance. All members of the faculty and the many pupils present seemed bent on a year of earnest endeavor and hard work, as indicated by the spirit which has prevailed about the school building the past week. With some this is due, perhaps, to the results of last year's examinations, thus creating in them a desire to do better this year, while with others it is due to a period of vacation which has abundantly refreshed them. The attendance this year is very large, over 200 students being enrolled in the high school department, of which number practically 60 per cent are non-residents. There are 213 enrolled in the grades.

In the commercial department of the school, the registration is greatly increased from last year. This department is equipped with nineteen new typewriters, filing cabinets, a large Edison rotary mimeograph and special desks for bookkeeping. Considerable interest is being manifested in this department.

The school building has been put in first class order inside and the grading on the outside is being completed by a force of men. Concrete steps leading into the building have been built and when all is finished Delhi will have one of the finest schools and grounds in the state.

The faculty of the school is headed by Prof. H. B. Arthur as principal, who has served so efficiently in that capacity for the past two years. It is otherwise composed of the following capable and highly recommended teachers:

First grade — Mildred Thurston, Oneonta Normal; second grade — Jessie Hutson, Delaware academy; third grade — Ruth Alvord, Cortland Normal; fourth grade — Susie Pollard, Cortland Normal; fifth grade — Grace

Robinson, Oneonta Normal; sixth grade — Inez Harvey, Cortland Normal; seventh grade — Lillian McEntee, Cortland Normal; eighth grade — Edna Lincoln, Fredonia Normal; eighth grade and supervisor of grades — Nellie Dowie, Oneonta Normal; violin — Mae Palmatter; physical training — Marion S. Allen, State College for Teachers; piano and vocal — Margaret Costerton, Syracuse university; commercial — Gertrude Burns, State College for Teachers; commercial — Elsie J. Rider, N. Y. university; mathematics — Margaret O'Reilly, Syracuse university; science — Inez A. Wood, Smith college; French and English — Pauline Aldrich, Syracuse university; history — Mettie Clearwater, Elmira college; drawing — Mrs. Culliver, State College for Teachers; English — Marian Whyman, Syracuse university; Latin and English — Elsie Means, Smith college.

EDUCATION IN NEW YORK

State Report for 1919, Just Out, Contains History by Dr. Finegan—Otsego Man Father of Schools.

The annual report of the State Education department for 1919, is now out, only two years late. The entire first volume is devoted to "A Documentary History of the Free School Movement in New York State," compiled by Thomas B. Finegan, formerly deputy commissioner of education in New York and now superintendent of Education for the state of Pennsylvania. It is a comprehensive work and contains much interest to the student of educational progress in the Empire state.

Of peculiar value are the earlier chapters, which have to do with the early schools, and those which immediately succeeded the Revolution. As early as 1794, it is noted that the state appropriated twenty thousand pounds, English money, to the maintenance of what would now be called the grade schools of the state, but which, in the act of the legislature are described as schools wherein the children of the state "can be taught English grammar, arithmetic and such other branches of knowledge as are necessary to complete a good English education. Of this sum $44,000.00 were appropriated to the county of Otsego.

The school system at that time was quite rudimentary and it was not until 1812 that the committee, of which Jedidah Peck of Otsego was the head, was appointed to revise the school laws. The report of this committee, it is interesting to note, recommended and the legislature adopted a law which to the present time remains in all its essential features. It provided that the several townships be divided into school districts, that trustees be elected for each district, that the interest of the school fund be divided among the counties and towns according to population, that the moneys for the towns be apportioned to the districts according to the number of children of school age, which was then between five and fifteen, and that the moneys received from the state be devoted exclusively to the payment of teachers' wages. There have been some modifications of this law, but the reader will note how closely it approximates the present school system, even to the requirement of certification of due qualification, and that there be a state superintendent of schools.

The state school system has grown to great proportions since 1812, but in a large measure what it has become is due to the excellent foundation laid by Jedidah Peck and his four associates.

MR. JENKINS' BODY ON WAY

Body of Schenectady Man, Drowned at Atlantic City, to Arrive Today—Village Shocked by News.

Schenectady, Sept. 13.—Word was received today that the body of William H. Jenkins, retired feed merchant of this village, who was drowned at Atlantic City Monday, will arrive Wednesday morning on the 6:58 train.

Mrs. Jenkins and Raymond Bennett of New York city will accompany the body here. Funeral plans will be made after they arrive.

News of Mr. Jenkins' untimely death was received with profound regret by his many friends in the village. He was highly regarded by citizens of the village who feel that in his passing the village is losing one of its most valued citizens. No further intelligence has been received regarding the circumstances of the drowning.

Mrs. A. H. Tipple Leaves for Vineland.

Mrs. A. H. Tipple of this city leaves this morning for Vineland, N. J., to join her husband, who has been there since June. In some ways Mr. Tipple's health is improved, and it seems advisable they may remain there the balance of the year. During her absence the Home department and Cripple roll of the Methodist Episcopal Sunday school in Mrs. Tipple's division will be looked after, and Rev. Dr. E. M. Johns has taken her Sunday school class of young ladies in with his class.

T. M. Hickey and son, Dorr, of Millford were visitors in the city yesterday.

Mrs. S. Alice Norton of 22 Church street spent Tuesday with friends in Unadilla.

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Elliott left yesterday morning to attend the State fair at Syracuse.

Mrs. Sarah A. Easton of 37 Main street was a guest yesterday of friends in Otsego.

Miss Lenora Drake of Fly Creek is spending the week with her cousin, Mrs. Dorman Baldwin of Dietz street.

Mrs. John J. Haskell of Charlotteville, who was operated on at the Parshall hospital Monday is reported to be doing nicely.

Miss Jennie Whitlock of West Davenport is spending the week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Thompson near Delhi.

Mrs. W. J. MacIntyre was removed from her home Monday at 184 Main street to the Fox Memorial hospital for the treatment of appendicitis.

Mrs. Maurice Vanberg, who had been waiting at the home of Mrs. Harry Dundon of this city, has returned to her home in Binghamton.

Charles S. Hynes of New York arrived in the city last evening, and will be the guest of his friend Edward LaRue, 1 Center street, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Williams of Steuben, this state, who have been visiting friends in Oneonta and vicinity for some time, left for home Tuesday.

Alex. F. Carson, after a summer vacation spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Carson of this city, left Tuesday for Syracuse to resume his studies in the College of Medicine of the University of Syracuse.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walker of Pittston, Pa., who had been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Robert Eustice of 24 Gilbert street, left yesterday for Binghamton on their way home.

Mrs. E. E. Gifford and daughter, Francis of Cooperstown were in Oneonta yesterday on their way to Union Spie, where the latter will enter a girl's college preparatory school.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Sexton arrived home last evening from a pleasure trip which embraced a water trip along the St. Lawrence from Quebec to Niagara Falls, which they greatly enjoyed.

Prof. Earle H. Fellows, who had been spending part of his summer vacation in Oneonta and vicinity, left Tuesday morning to resume his work in the public schools of Brooklyn.

Mrs. Fellows will remain for a short time longer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Follett and son, and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. House left yesterday afternoon for Boston, Burlington, Vt., at which place Dr. LeRoy House will join the party. Leaving Burlington Thursday, they will tour through the White Mountains of New Hampshire to Boston, and thence to New York, where they will visit friends.

The return trip will be by way of the Catskills.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Barlow, formerly of Hobart, now residing in Union, were in the city on Monday on their way to South Worcester to visit friends. Mr. Barlow is now in his 37th year, but both he and Mrs. Barlow were greatly enjoying the motor trip, they having accompanied W. H. Sturges of South Worcester home from Union. Mr. Sturges had been to Hobart, where he had been with his son, John Lauren Sturges. The latter is a student at Cornell university.

South Side Property Sold.

Brooklyn Family to Occupy R. W. Rainey's Desirable Farm House.

R. W. Rainey on Monday sold his desirable farm on Upper South Side to E. B. Hoess of Brooklyn, with possession given October 1. Mr. Hoess was a week-end guest at the home of Peter Hartman and completed the purchase while here. Mr. and Mrs. Hoess and their daughter have been frequent visitors on South Side and they liked the place so well that they decided to locate here permanently. They will be cordially welcomed to their new home, which they expect to occupy early next month. Mr. Hoess certainly has secured a desirable farm home.

Mr. Rainey has not announced his future plans but it is probable that he will return to Oneonta city, his former home. He has been a resident of South Side for the past six years and many friends will regret his departure.

Filling the Stos.

Only as one passes along South side he is impressed with the fact that summer is over and fall is upon us. The trees have begun to turn, and as soon as the sun goes down the cool night air brings memories of the winter fireplace home to all.

Harvest time is in full sway, and soon the "foat" will be on the pumpkin. Most South Side farmers are busy nowadays harvesting their corn, and silos are being filled every day.

Two of the most active workers are Elmer Allen and Fred Bennett, who with their tractors, are much in demand.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. Wilson Coe has returned home after spending some time with relatives in Tunnel and Afton. She was accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew King of Afton, who were her guests for a few days—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Foster were in Otsego Monday on business errands—H. G. Bennett of Worcester was a Sunday guest at the home of Fred Bennett, South Side.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Starr, who have been spending a few days at the home of Frank Yulk, have returned to their home in Middleburgh.

AGED AND RESPECTED WOMAN

Mrs. Lucinda Maples Wells Dies Last Evening at Home of Daughter.

Mrs. John L. Bowdish.

Lucinda Maples, wife of the late Edwin A. Wells of Hartwick, died at 11 o'clock last evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John L. Bowdish, 33 Ford avenue, in this city.

Though greatly advanced in years, Mrs. Wells had been in good health until last spring, when she suffered an attack of influenza, from which she never fully recovered. She had, however, been confined to her bed only for the past six weeks.

The hour and day of the services will be given in The Star of Thursday. There will be prayer service at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bowdish, and interment will be in the Hartwick cemetery, the funeral being in the Christian church of that village, of which she was a long member.

Mrs. Wells was born in Hartwick township, March 25, 1826. She was a daughter of Harvey and Hannah (Robinson) Maples and was descended from David and Lois Maples, who were among the earliest settlers in that town, coming from Connecticut about 1800. She was married March 6, 1855, to Edwin A. Wells, also of Hartwick, and that township was continuously her home until her death, though since the death of Mr. Wells, about ten years ago, she had spent much of her time with her daughter in Oneonta. She was from early youth a devoted member of the Christian church of Hartwick, her name appearing on the list of charter members in 1853. For many years she had devoted her time, energies and means liberally and unselfishly for the support of the church and Sunday school, to which she was greatly devoted, and outside her family, it was her chief interest. However, great as was her interest in the church, it by no means bounded the sphere of her activities. She was generous in every way, a kind neighbor and friend, a helper in every good cause, strong in her convictions of right and justice. She will be greatly missed in the town which was her life-long home, and by all whose good fortune it has been to know her intimately.

Mrs. Wells leaves one daughter, Mrs. Bowdish, above named, who is the last of four children to survive, and by one grandson, Ernest Auger of Hartwick. To them heartily sympathetic will be extended in their bereavement.

TRACES ORIGIN OF POLYNESIANS

Doctor Sullivan Gets Data for Eugenics Congress.

HAS AN INTERESTING EXHIBIT

Anthropologist of American Museum of Natural History Spends Much Time in Hawaiian Islands Compiling Data Concerning the Origin of the Polynesian Race—Studies Racial Strains That Have Been Transplanted to Islands.

One of the most important contemporary contributions to the science of eugenics and the study of racial characteristics has just been completed at the Bishop museum at Honolulu by Dr. Louis R. Sullivan, anthropologist of the American Museum of Natural History of New York city.

Doctor Sullivan has been at work for two months on the compilation of an exhibit which will occupy an important place at the Second International congress of eugenics to be held at New York September 22 to 28. Doctor Sullivan spent more than a year in the territory, investigating along anthropological lines, chiefly concerning the origin of the Polynesian race.

The Bishop Museum exhibit, in his opinion, will be one of the largest and most striking shown at the congress. It has been assembled by the museum under the supervision of Dr. Herbert E. Gregory of Yale, who is director of the institution.

The exhibit includes 50 plaster casts and more than 200 photographs. Representatives of every race found in the territory co-operated in the compilation of the exhibits—among them Hawaiians, Americans, Portuguese, Japanese, Chinese, Koreans, Filipinos, Hawaiian-Chinese, Hawaiian Americans and Hawaiian Filipinos.

As delegate from the Bishop museum to the eugenics congress, Doctor Sullivan will read a paper dealing extensively with the racial characteristics found in Hawaii. His conclusions may be regarded by anthropologists everywhere as authoritative.

Of all the racial strains that have been transplanted to Hawaiian soil the Chinese and the Portuguese appear to thrive best under the climatic and other conditions found here, in the opinion of Doctor Sullivan. There is not a single group, he concludes, whose members do not exhibit more distinct tendencies toward survival in the economic struggle than the Hawaiians themselves, evidently due, he says, to the fact that with the Hawaiian race the struggle for existence has been almost no struggle at all.

Conditions which they found in the islands made life easy and struggle unnecessary. But with the Oriental and European races here the situation has been diametrically opposite. These people came to Hawaii from lands where the economic struggle was fierce and the competition keen. The result is that they are better able to build the machinery of progress out of the tools which they find at hand.

But the individual of Hawaiian blood mingled with that of one or more of the racial strains that flourish here, according to Doctor Sullivan, is an efficient, progressive citizen, normally excellent of body and brain and thoroughly capable of assuming any place in the world for which he is willing to fit himself.

SELLS SOME MINES

Rich Former Laborer Gets Millions From a Company.

Pedro Alvarado, the former mine laborer who became a multi-millionaire by his discovery of a rich silver ore outcropping at Parral, Mex., which was developed into the famous Parral mine, has just sold 31 of his mines in Chihuahua, Durango and Sonora to the Mexican National Resources Company of San Antonio, Tex., for $6,000,000 United States currency.

Alvarado came into wide public notice about fifteen years ago, soon after his rise to sudden fortune, by offering to pay the public debt of Mexico. Gen. Porfirio Diaz, who was president at the time, refused the offer.

For many years Alvarado distributed large sums of money among the poor people of Parral by making a trip through the streets once a week scattering silver coins as he went along. He built a magnificent palace of marble upon the site of his lowly birthplace, the cost of the structure being $2,000,000, it is stated. In every room he placed a piano and a cage of canary birds. He also erected a fine Catholic church in Parral.

Beating the Bachelor.

In Sicily the fire tree is unknown as a Christmas adjunct, but the very ludicrous custom of "beating the bachelor" is observed by the women. All of the unmarried men in the village are driven into the church after mass by the outnumbering women and run about the sacred edifice and beaten until they declare (often falsely) that they will wed ere another Christmas come around.

Venetian Glass.

Venetian glass is distinguished by its exquisite thinness and fineness of quality—Tiffany glass being its only rival. Compared with Bohemian glass, which is also prized for brilliancy, its quality is much superior, although Bohemian glass sometimes rivals it in coloring and decorations which are more gorgeous but not as refined.

The Bright Side.

The warden of Ohio penitentiary says that this one is true. Recently a negro prisoner, in for life, was brought before him and in the conversation the warden said: "Why, Tatus, you are in for life, aren't you?" With a broad grin the negro replied philosophically, "Oh, no, warden, just from now on."

According to Doctor Sullivan's analysis of 14,500 unselected marriages during the five-year period from 1912 to 1917, inclusive, men of Caucasian-Hawaiian blood showed a greater tendency to mate with the Hawaiian strain than did the women, in the ratio of 32.7 to 20, while the women of Caucasian-Hawaiian strain showed a greater tendency than the men to mate with the white race in the ratio of 32.5 to 13.8.

Men of Asiatic-Hawaiian blood who chose mates of the Hawaiian strain exceeded the women in the ratio of 44.4 to 20.7.

A Century of Change.

A paper has been prepared by Doctor Sullivan to illustrate a century of change in the population of Hawaii. The table proves beyond question the existence of tendencies which heretofore have only been suspected.

The 98 years between 1823 and the present show a decline in the number of pure-blood Hawaiians in the islands, but the increase in the number of part-Hawaiians has not been even remotely corresponding. For instance, the number of pure-blood Hawaiians in 1823 was 142,000. This number had decreased as early as 1832 to 130,313, and four years later to 108,579. In 1853 the number was 73,138. The decrease since that time has been steady and uninterrupted, until in 1920 the total number of pure-blood Hawaiians had shrunk to 23,728. But the total number of part-Hawaiians in the same year was only 13,027, and the part-Hawaiians have shown only a very small ratio of increase since this element first became one of importance in the total population.

The table takes into account the beginning of every separate racial influence that has made itself felt in the territory in the last century. The Chinese immigration, starting in 1852, was the first important movement along this line. Seven years later, in 1859, the South sea immigration began to make itself felt, and in 1863 and 1873 there were distinct movements of the Micronesian population to Hawaii. The first wave of Japanese immigration came in 1868, and was of minor importance. Ten years later came the first Portuguese immigration, and from 1881 to 1885 the first movements of Germans, Norwegians and Swedes.

The Great Japanese Influx.

The second and major wave of Japanese immigration began in 1885, and continued with such regularity and in such large numbers that the Japanese became by all odds the most important racial group, numerically, in the territory within a few years. The American influence began to grow in importance in 1893, or at the time of the annexation of the Hawaiian islands to the United States.

Other racial groups came in as follows: 1901, 1902 and 1906, Koreans; 1906 and 1907, Filipinos, Porto Ricans and Spaniards; 1909, small Russian immigration from Siberia.

The proportion of increase in the Japanese population has been invariably rapid. The period of sharpest rise was in the decade from 1890 to 1900.

The population of the territory as a whole has shown a healthy and steady ratio of increase from 1879, when the influx of various racial groups began to make itself felt.

The central figure in the Hawaiian exhibit, when it is mounted at the eugenics congress, will be a life-size cast of David Kahanamoku, Captain of the Waikiki Beach patrol and brother of Duke Kahanamoku, world champion sprint swimmer.

FISH BITE TOO FAST

Man After Them Had Too Much Luck and Could Not Smoke.

Fish bit too fast the other day for Harry H. Woodward, a barber, near Castleman's Ferry, on the Shenandoah river in Virginia, and he returned to his home a bit put out because of his streak of luck.

He said they came too fast for him, and he had no time to sit on the bank and smoke his pipe and nod. Woodward and two friends went to the river during the morning, the stream having cleared after a rain, and he put out two ordinary lines.

After landing 17 black bass, he reeled up and came home, saying he had too much luck for one day. One of the bass weighed a little over five pounds, and the others ranged from three to four-and-a-half pounds. His two friends caught seven between them.

When Woodward laid the fish on the floor of his barber shop there was a general craning of necks, and the next day the place where he had fished was visited by many other anglers, but with no such luck as struck Woodward.

Pearl Divers Out of Work.

Papeete, Tahiti.—Pearl divers of the Fannout islands, near here, probably will do no work this year, for the 1920 pearl catch has not yet been marketed, there being no demand for the product. In the past diving for pearl shell has been one of the chief industries of the islands.

Membership For Service.

The Family Social Work association is most fortunate in securing the Field Secretary of the American association for organizing Family Social work for a meeting in Municipal hall on Friday evening.

The Family Social Work association needs the cooperation of all citizens and their personal efforts in the many activities that this association essays to maintain. The meeting of Friday evening is solely for the purpose of enlisting in personal service. It is not a drive in any sense, but an appeal to those who can to furnish their own efforts, contributing service, not money. The money side of the question, necessary as it is, is not the object nor the aim of this visitation of the National Field Secretary.

Plans for service, information of vital character, along lines of civic and social betterment are the objects. Let all those who value such efforts in the community, show by their presence that they esteem such service and thus give personal support to the organization's aims and purposes.

Arthur M. Curtis, President

Young Woman Makes Statement.

Editor Star:
After certain statements that have already been made by the press, it would seem but just to the family of Alverd VanAlstine, that the fact be made known that in an interview which Mrs. VanAlstine, mother of Alverd VanAlstine, had with the girl who was said to have been so maltreated on Sunday last at West Oneonta, that the girl made the statement that she was not injured in any way by VanAlstine and she thought to frighten them by feigning that she was injured.

Brains of Lower Animals.
All animals have some form of brain and nervous system, which in the horse and other higher animals approximates the human brain. As compared with the human brain, those of animals are deficient in reasoning power but in other ways their intelligence is very marked.

Horace Greeley's Philosophy.

Those who discharge promptly and faithfully all their duties to those who still live in the flesh, can have but little time for poking and peering into the life beyond the grave. Better to attend to each world in its proper order.—Horace Greeley.

Honors More Than Even.

CHANDLER SIX

NOW ONLY $1785

No Other Car Like the Chandler At Anything Like the Price

The Chandler Six has always been distinguished by its high quality and its low price. Today it is back to the 1913 price and it is a larger, finer car than ever before. Now as in 1913 both the car and the price defy comparison.

Eight years of constant refinement on the original chassis, backed by the investment of millions of dollars, have put the Chandler in the unassailable position it holds today. It is a most highly perfected automobile with a marvelous and world-famous motor and its price is far below anything that could even be compared with it.

Over 100,000 owners know the excellence of Chandler service. They know its never-failing, economical performance, its sturdy strength, its roominess and exceptional riding comfort even on the roughest roads.

Among the seven beautiful types of bodies mounted on the standard Chandler chassis you will find one that completely meets your requirements. Free from the freakish or extreme, they offer all the elements of style and quality found in the highest priced cars. They are beautiful in design and finish and luxurious in upholstery and appointment.
